GUIDING YOU THROUGH THE WORLD BEHIND THE DOUBLE DOORS.

It's different here—the world in and around the operating room. That's why you need the number one resource for perioperative departments across the country, AORN Works.

CONSULTING

Count on the individualized solutions from AORN Works to enhance the performance in every aspect of your perioperative arena. Our master's prepared clinical consultants, including physicians and senior nurse leaders, will improve your bottom line, incorporate best practices into your O.R., and ensure patient safety. Some of our specialties include:

Operational Assessment

Let our perioperative experts evaluate your perioperative department and identify opportunities for improvements in operational and clinical processes while enhancing safe patient care.

Infection Control

AORN Works' perioperative experts will partner with your team to evaluate your infection prevention program, recommend solutions to decrease surgical site infections and improve patient outcomes.

Central Sterile Processing

Our team of perioperative experts will evaluate your sterilization process to ensure compliance with AORN Standards and Recommended Practices as well as regulatory requirements.

Healthcare Regulatory Compliance

Let AORN Works' nurse attorneys be your source for healthcare/regulatory compliance, risk management, accreditation preparation, and ARRA.

INTERIM AND PERMANENT PLACEMENT

Find the top executive and management level candidates. Our recruiters specialize in the unique staffing demands of the O.R., and evaluate candidates with your specific needs in mind. We'll provide people with the experience you need and the attributes to fit your culture.

Interim

Even when key leadership in the perioperative department is absent, AORN Works can help your operating room run smoothly. Our interim placement recruiters hand pick experienced perioperative leaders specifically for your situation. With an average of over ten years management experience, these leaders deliver stability, problem solving skills and the piece of mind you need.

Permanent

When it comes to new leadership for your perioperative department, the right fit is essential. As a subsidiary company of AORN, surgical leadership is our exclusive focus. It's a unique concentration that allows our recruiters to approach your search with an emphasis on cultural fit and leadership styles.
