

NO ONE KNOWS THE AORNWORKS™
BETTER

AORN WORKS PLACEMENT NETWORK

What sounds interesting to you? Is it the flexibility of interim work or the challenge of providing leadership on a permanent basis? AORN Works is a national resource that connects you with most desirable positions and helps you advance your career. If you're just thinking about a change, or you're already in the process, check out our website for education resources and an online job board to get you going.

Our website includes:

- Online Job Board
- Candidate Preparation Links
- Contractor vs. Employee Information
- Associations and Directories
- Credentialing and Education Links

Learn more about our Placement Network at AORNworks.org. Go to "INTERIM PLACEMENT" or "PERMANENT PLACEMENT" in the top navigation bar, then "CANDIDATES" to get started.

If you'd like further information about the AORN Works Placement Network, contact:

Kelley Kadlecek, Recruiter
800.755.2676 x313
kkadlecek@aorn.org

NO ONE KNOWS THE AORNWORKSTM
BETTER

JOIN THE AORN WORKS MARKET RESEARCH DATABASE

Your opinion matters. In fact, it matters so much that we're willing to pay you for your thoughts and experience. Help make the perioperative profession better with your insights into new products and procedures by being a part of the AORN Works Market Research Database. Once you sign up, you decide what projects you want to participate in. Opportunities include:

Focus Groups

A focus group is a round-table discussion on products and services. The discussions are moderated by market research professionals and offer you the chance to participate in educated dialogue about your profession.

Interviews

For companies that want to have more in-depth conversations with professionals, interviews provide the opportunity for a more one-on-one exchange of ideas. These may be conducted in-person or by telephone.

Surveys

Surveys are generally taken online. A survey is a tool used to gather information regarding products and services. The length of surveys may differ, but typically involve an assortment of multiple-choice questions.

Learn more about the AORN Works Market Research Database, and easily sign-up online in just a few minutes. At AORNworks.org, go to "MARKET RESEARCH" in the top navigation bar, then "INDIVIDUALS" to get started.

If you'd like further information about joining our market research database, contact:

Vicki Faas, General Manager
800.755.2676 x266
vfaas@aorn.org